Welcome to Rare Book School!

FOR MORE THAN FORTY YEARS, the bibliographical community has been supported and nourished by the work of Rare Book School (RBS). From its tentative beginnings at Columbia University, the School has educated several generations of librarians, collectors, academics, conservators, and booksellers, producing a network of loyal alumni, talented faculty, and dedicated friends around the globe. In the process, it has also earned a reputation as the world’s premier institution for the study of bibliography and book history. We are delighted that you will soon be a part of that distinguished tradition, and of our School’s promising future. We look forward to welcoming you to Chicago for your Rare Book School course.

This Information Guide will provide general information about what to expect during your course week. More detailed information about your course, in the form of an Important Information Guide, will be shared with you via email as the course week approaches. Upon arrival in Chicago, you will also receive a digital copy of The Student’s Vade Mecum. We hope the information provided in these three documents will ensure that your stay is as productive and enjoyable as possible. (N.B. Please continue to refer to this guide moving forward; it contains valuable information not repeated in the Vade Mecum.) We eagerly await your arrival, and look forward to another wonderful session!

RBS in Chicago

CHICAGO, founded in 1837, stands as a vibrant cultural hub and economic powerhouse in the heart of the Midwest. Renowned for its iconic skyline punctuated by architectural marvels such as the Willis Tower and the John Hancock Center, Chicago boasts a rich history steeped in innovation, commerce, and diversity. Notably, Chicago is home to the University of Chicago, a private research university established in 1890. The main campus of the University of Chicago consists of 217 acres in the Chicago neighborhoods of Hyde Park and Woodlawn, approximately eight miles south of downtown Chicago. The Joseph Regenstein Library, where these courses will be held, is home to over 4.5 million print volumes focusing on subjects in the humanities and social sciences, as well as business, divinity, and area studies.

This year, the University of Chicago will host the Rare Book School courses “An Environmental History of the Book” taught by Deputy Dean of the Humanities, Associate Professor of English, and Director of the Karla Scherer Center for the Study of American Culture at the University of Chicago Eric Slaughter and “Censorship from the Inquisition to the Present” taught by Associate Professor in History at the University of Chicago Ada Palmer.

We’re excited that you’ve decided to join us in Chicago this summer, and we want to do all we can to deliver an exceptional educational experience. If you have any questions about the course, or about RBS generally, please email us at rbsprograms@virginia.edu.

The RBS Week

All RBS students are expected to be in attendance and on time for all regularly scheduled classes, labs, and field trips. This is to ensure the quality and community of RBS as a School, and we insist that participants attend all sessions of their courses, unless presented with the most extraordinary of circumstances. Practically speaking, this involves a full-time commitment of two hours on Sunday evening and from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Please make your travel plans accordingly!

SUNDAY, 5-7 p.m., Opening Reception

Students taking an RBS course at UChicago will convene alongside students taking courses at the Newberry Library for registration and a meal at Roots Pizza South Loop (744 S Dearborn St). Once there, all students will receive a digital copy of the Student's Vade Mecum and a name badge.

N.B. If you plan to attend this event, RSVP by email (rbsprograms@virginia.edu) no later than 11 July.

Late arrival: We strongly suggest attending the Sunday night registration, but if you are unable to make it, please email us (rbsprograms@virginia.edu) and let us know. If you do not attend, you will need to register at the Joseph Regenstein Library at 8:15 a.m. sharp on Monday morning.

MONDAY through THURSDAY

8:15 a.m.* Registration (Monday Only)

Registration for those not in attendance on Sunday will take place on the first floor of the Regenstein Library. An RBS staff member will meet students at the security gate.

8:30-10 a.m.* First Period

Classes meet in the Hanna Holborn Gray Special Collections Research Center's classroom (Room 136) and in the Rosenthal Seminar Room (Room 133). Coffee will be available in Room 122B beforehand.

10-10:30 a.m. Morning Break

Students convene for refreshments. All breaks will take place in Room 122B.

10:30 a.m.-12 p.m.* Second Period

12-1:30 p.m. Lunch

Classes break for lunch. There are several restaurants within walking distance of the library.

1:30-3 p.m.* Third Period

3-3:30 p.m. Afternoon Break

3:30-5 p.m.* Fourth Period

MONDAY Lecture (Details TBA)

A lecture will take place on Monday evening at the Gleacher Center (450 North Cityfront Plaza Dr). RBS-UChicago and RBS-Newberry Library students will be invited to attend. A round-trip shuttle will pick up and drop off students at the Regenstein. A reception will follow the lecture.

THURSDAY, 5 p.m. Book Shop Crawl

The inaugural RBS-UChicago cohort organized a book shop crawl. We include their proposed route for your consideration: 57th Street Books (closes at 6 p.m.), Powell's Books (closes at 7 p.m.), and Seminary Co-Op (closes at 7:30 p.m.) for books; Medici on 57th for a bite.

FRIDAY

8:30-10 a.m.* First Period

Classes meet in the Hanna Holborn Gray Special Collections Research Center's classroom (Room 136) and in the Rosenthal Seminar Room (Room 133). Coffee will be available in Room 122B beforehand.

10-10:30 a.m. Morning Break

Students convene for refreshments. All breaks will take place in Room 122B in the Regenstein.

12-2 p.m. Lunch

Class breaks for a long lunch. By tradition, students take their instructor(s) to a group lunch on Friday (though you are not obligated to attend). Advance reservations are strongly recommended.

2-3:40 p.m.* Third Period

3:40 p.m.* Course Evaluations

Students receive course completion certificates and fill out RBS course evaluations.

3:45-5 p.m. Closing Reception

RBS will host a closing reception in Room 122B in the Regenstein. Drinks and hors d'oeuvres will be provided.

Before you arrive

Reading Lists

Most RBS courses have advance reading lists or assignments that RBS instructors expect their students to complete before they arrive. These are outlined at www.rarebookschool.org/reading.

Students should come to class prepared. Those who have trouble locating required readings might try obtaining them through interlibrary loan (ILL), from used or antiquarian booksellers through the Antiquarian Booksellers Association of America (ABAA), or online via sites such as www.bookfinder.com or www.vialibri.net.

Arrival & Departure Logistics

When thinking about your transportation arrangements, please remember that staying over Friday night after the last day of class can be an excellent idea, if you can swing it. Arriving a day early may also be a good idea, as it can provide an opportunity to settle in, overcome jet lag, &c. RBS first-timers are often surprised by the intensity of the experience, so be sure to get some sleep before class starts!

Problems

Please let us know if you encounter problems on any front. If such problems occur before you arrive, email (rbsprograms@virginia.edu) or telephone us (434-924-8851, 8:30 a.m.–5 p.m.; voicemail after hours). If you encounter issues with tuition payments, contact RBS Accounting Specialist Michael Taylor at 434-243-2920, or by email (michael.taylor@virginia.edu).

Should any difficulties arise during the course, please bring your concerns to a faculty member, an RBS staff member on site, or contact us at Rare Book School.

Accommodations

RBS students will have the option to stay in UChicago's dormitories (Campus North Residential Commons). These accommodations are apartment-style, comprising of four single rooms and a shared bathroom and kitchen, and cost $94.00 per night per bed. Students taking advantage of this housing option are only responsible for the cost of their bed. Remaining beds will be filled only by other RBS students. Linens are provided. Dishware and cookware are not. Laundry facilities, retail dining options, and ample street parking will be available. Students will check in any time after 9 a.m. on 2 August and will check out any time after 10 a.m. on 9 August. Further information regarding room reservations will be shared with students in the coming weeks, as these provisional details are finalized. Please reach out to emma.reilly@virginia.edu with questions that crop up in the meantime.

There are several hotel options nearby the University of Chicago campus. The Study at University of Chicago is one such example, located at the corner of Woodlawn and E 60th Street. Located adjacent to the David Rubenstein Forum and Keller Center, this hotel is a sixteen-minute walk to the Regenstein Library.

If you're staying in Hyde Park, the Hyatt Place Chicago South and Sophy Hyde Park offer comfortable stays close to campus. Located just one block apart, Hyatt Place is off 53rd Street on S. Harper Avenue and Sophy Hyde Park is on 53rd Street—a major neighborhood destination with many shopping, dining, and entertainment options. Both hotels have easy access to public transportation routes into downtown Chicago. The hotels are approximately a 20-minute walk from the Regenstein Library.

The University of Chicago also maintains a Preferred Hotel Program for hotels in the Chicago area: <https://visit.uchicago.edu/accommodations>. If calling the hotel directly to book your reservations, please request "The University of Chicago rate" to receive the discounted rate and access to special amenities where offered.

It would be wise to look into these options earlier, rather than later, as the course week coincides with the end of Lollapalooza. As the festival dates approach, hotel and airfare prices will increase, and availability will decrease.

Transportation

Air Travel

If you choose to fly to Chicago, there are two major commercial airports in the Chicago area: Midway International Airport (MDW) and Chicago O'Hare International Airport (ORD).

From Midway Airport, visitors can take a direct 55 bus to the campus in Hyde Park, which takes about 50 minutes. Ride shares from Midway only take about 20–25 minutes to get directly to campus.

From O'Hare, visitors can take the Blue Line to the Loop and transfer at the Jackson Blue Line stop to the 6 or 2 bus to Hyde Park (both run express, but the 2 bus is only active during a.m. and p.m. rush hour times). Ride shares from O'Hare to Hyde Park take about 45–50 minutes.

Driving to the Regenstein Library

From Lake Shore Drive:

Exit at 57th Drive (the Museum of Science and Industry). Go west and follow the curve around the museum. Take the fourth right onto the Midway Plaisance and go west to the campus.

From the Dan Ryan Expressway (I-90/94):

Exit at Garfield Boulevard (55th Street) and drive east, following the signs for 55th Street. Once you cross over Cottage Grove Avenue, the campus is on your right.

Taking the Train

Amtrak: Trains arrive at Union Station.

Metra: The Chicago area's commuter rail system operates at four major stations: Ogilvie Transportation Center, Millennium Station, LaSalle Street Station, and Union Station.

South Shore Line: Trains run between South Bend, Indiana, and Chicago (Millennium Station).

Advance Advices

What to Bring

At RBS, dress is business casual for all events. Summer in Chicago can range from warm to blistering hot, with average temperatures ranging from 70 degrees to 81 degrees Fahrenheit. The classroom space in the Regenstein, on the other hand, is usually quite chilly. With these temperatures and classroom comfort in mind, please pack appropriately. In general, bringing comfortable shoes and an umbrella is also a good idea.

RBS participants are expected to come to class prepared, and are required to be on time. Bring a watch. If you wish to take notes, plan accordingly. Pencils, paper, and other supplies are available at nearby convenience stores. Before leaving home, check the course description and the reading list on the RBS website for specific instructions on what to bring. (It is not, for instance, always necessary to bring copies of your advance reading.)

Pharmacies & Medical Facilities

The nearest pharmacy is a CVS located at 1228 E 53rd St (773-752-1425). For 24-hour service, visit the Walgreens located at 1554 E 55th St (773-667-1177). This location is approximately a 5-minute drive from the Regenstein Library. The nearest hospital emergency room is the University of Chicago Emergency Department and Trauma Center located at 5656 S Maryland Ave (773-702-6250). As always, if you need immediate assistance, dial 911.
